

Motor Traffic and Car Parking

Motor traffic is something that was brought into the established market town of Selby where streets were already narrow, and cars were less prevalent. This has led to there being areas where it can be obtrusive to other road users and have a negative impact on the market town character, but it is an essential part of modern-day living that allows the market town to work and thrive today. Areas of parking that are accessible and useable are also essential to prevent inappropriate parking in the more sensitive character areas.

	Yes	No
Do parked cars impact on the area's appearance?
Does it feel like the traffic speed and volume impact on the pedestrian experience?
Do you think that vehicle access is important to maintain the area's uses (such as supplying businesses)?

What can you see?

Are there areas where you think parking should be removed, or added? Are there places you think parking should be better maintained or enhanced? Are there areas where speed should be reduced?
