

Signs

In Selby we retain several signs in the street and on buildings that have some heritage value and interest – surviving signs for old and lost Selby shops with a local story, originals that illustrate what a building used to be despite a change of use, some for old road names, and some for businesses that have survived the test of time. Rules of the Road requires today that we also have a wealth of signage in town to assist the movement of all road users, and these have changed over the years to add more and more for safety. The balance between heritage and safety is significant here.

	Yes	No
Do you find it easy to navigate around the town?

What can you see?

Does it look like there are too many?

Some that appear to say the same thing or are set up on many different posts that impact on the character. Are they pointing in the right direction?

Are they in a poor condition?
-------------------------------	--	--

What can you see?

Are there any that you think might be historic or part of the area's valued character? Record their locations.