We are all different. It is OK to be different.

The council must help everyone in North Yorkshire to get the services they need.

The council must stop people being unkind to other people.

The council must treat everyone in a fair way

It is fair to give more help to people who need it.

The council must help people to get on well together.

The council will treat everyone with respect.

The council will think carefully before changing something. If we think a change is bad for people we will try to make it better.

The council will make it easy for people to tell us if we do something wrong. When we are wrong we will put it right.
